GENE MAUE

Fellow Plainsmen,

You know, memories are funny things. Sometimes, they just won't come. Then they need a gentle and encouraging nudge. That nudge--be it a gesture, a picture, a song, anything at all--can jog a person into recalling some of the best times in his life.

We, the Staff, have realized this and tried to keep it in mind while putting together the 1968 Quill. We have not tried to capture the entire year between these covers. Rather, we have sorted through all the memories of the year, discarded some, accepted others, polished them up, and offered the choicest to you in the hopes that they will stir up many others.

We have attempted to Spotlight Memories of 1968.

Sincerely,

Margo Vives, editor

Community Benefits From Autry Dedication

MIL O. T. Al TRY Superintendent of Schools

Always a familiar and welcome face at Enid High was that of O. T. Autry, superintendent of the Enid School System. For Mr. Autry, 1968 was a year of many additions and changes.

Well within the limits of his many and varied interests was the O. T. Autry Vocational Technical School. Named in honor of him, the school was completed last summer and opened for classes in the fall semester of 1967.

Located north of Enid, the school served students from the surrounding area as well as those from Enid High School. It offered twentyone courses, ranging from auto mechanics to data processing. Not only 10 h school students in nefited from this school, but also graduate students and adults.

This year's enrollment was approximately 150, which was within the school's capacity for service. But, ever with an eve to the future, Mr. Autry and the school board provided for growth. Stated Mr. Autry, "Should the need for expansion become a reality, the physical building can make the change easily." The building was constructed so that when addition is needed, it will not require complete rebuilding or even remodeling.

The stated purpose of the school was to give Enid High School a balanced curriculum, sun able to the needs of every student. But in view of the fact that it helped also adults and graduates, the school was a valuable addition, not only to EHS but to Northwest Oklahoma.

With a year of changes and additions past, the Eind Board of Education worked on to promote higher standards of learning

Some of the additions were large, such as $115,722 large, the cost of the new central office building. Planned in 1966, completed in the summer of 1967, and occupied at the beginning of the fatt semester, the building housed the offices of school officials, school records, and files. It also provided a pleasant setting for the hoard's monthly meetings.

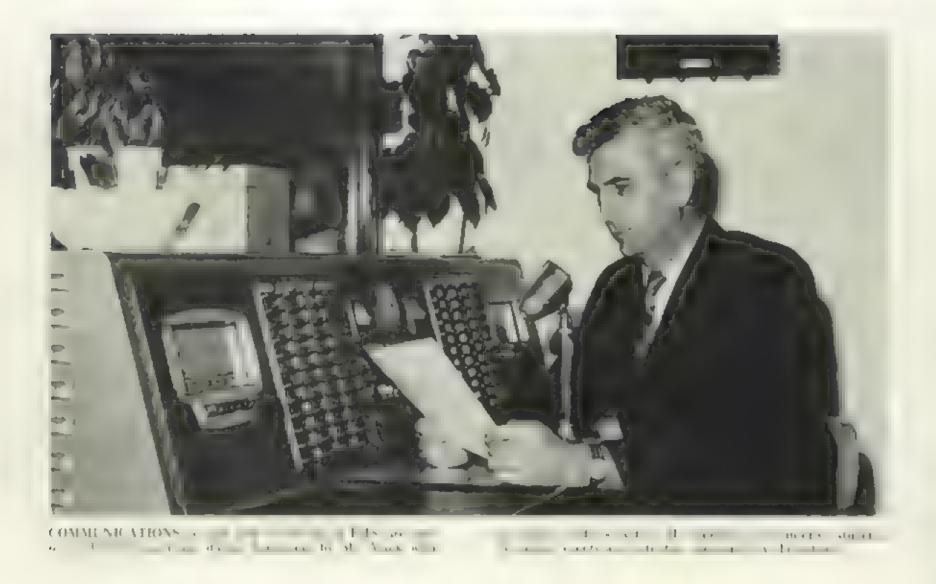

Less expensive, but just as noteworthy, was the addition of a new member of the board. Dr. Joe S Bevant

Under the direction of the board, a special education class was initiated this year in Enid High School. The guidance staff added a new counselor, and the administration of the high school added another assistant principal.

A new project of great importance to the board was the Psychological-Sociological Clinic. Serving both Enid and Garfield County, the center helped school-age students with hidden emotional or psychological problems.

Mauk Proves Outstanding in His First Year

MR GENEMAUK P of p

In his first year as principal, Mr. Gene Mauk provided excellent leadership that kept the spot light focused on Enid High School in 1968. His dynamic personality welded the faculty into a united group which supported him in all things. His casual manner, a friendliness yet firmness toward students, was a part of his popularity.

Although Mr. Mank was new to the position of principal, he was not new to Enid High School, having served three years as assistant principal and four years as a classroom teacher. These past positions provided him with the necessary experience to fulfill the duties and responsibilities connected with the principalship of Enid High School

He received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Phillips University and his Masters in Educational Administration from Oklahoma State University. He is married and has four children

This year initiated a second assistant principal This addition aided the principal and allowed him more time to fulfill his responsibilities and assist in the instructional program.

Adding a Second Vice-Principal Eases Load

Enlargement of the responsibilities of the assistant principalship resulted in the appointment of two assistant principals, Mr. Stanley Jenkins and Mr. Jerry Simmons. Their duties included student-teacher relations, curriculum, student problems, administration, and attendance

Mr. Jenkins's prime duties were curriculum and administration. He formerly taught Buble for seven years and Luglish for one year at Emd High School. He is married and has four children. Mr. Jenkins received both his nachelor's and his master's degree from Phillips University

Prior to issuming the duties of assistant principal in charge of student problems, student teacher relations and attendance. Mr. Simmons was the distributive education teacher-coordinator. He is married and has two children. He is a graduate of East Central State College, and he received his master's degree at Oklahoma University.

This year the guidance department added two new counselors, Mr. Zorns Berry and Mr. Rich and Snell, and a new guidance secretary. Mrs Ann Martin. Through untiring effort, this department directed students

Mixed Chorus Starts Top Musical Talent

Spreading delight wherever it went, the Enid High Mixed Chorus added yet another year of hard work and praise to its laurels. The eighty eight voice choir, under the direction of Mrs Maurine Morrow Priebe, performed for local civic club luncheons during the Christmas season. Featuring the Madrigal Chorus, it sang songs of the season. Caroling in the school hall-and performing in the school Crustmas issembly put everyone in the proper mood for the holidays. The chorus finished its Christmas season with the Christmas Vespers

With a new year came concentrated effort on learning rew sones. The chorus visited the three punior rices presenting a program of tan and patriotism. It mughts their turned to the spring program. The stage was a bright pink as they presented their program. Time to Sing "with a decidedly spring theme. If get a hting the program was the crowning of the Chorus Queen, Mary Margaret Russell, by Kill, Mark Krupp.

The end of the year brought Tri State and May Fete, in which the Mixed Chorus participated with the poise and talent typical of the group of finely blended voices

PONCA CITY to James to the Williams (13) and ball as Clarrell Langwell (33) and Merle Moore (70) encort him

One hundred per cent described the Plainsmen football team effort this year. Plagued all year by crippling injuries, the Big Blue gave it all they had and a little more as they racked up a season record of 7 victories and 3 defeats.

In their season opener against Ponca City, Enid tamed the Wildcats 120 Paul Rich optured special honors as "Lineman of the Week" from the Daily Oklahoman for his effort.

Enid's next foc was the Tulsa Rodgers' Ropers whom Enid lassoed with a 22-6 win

Shawnee's Wolves were the next to fall before the Plainsmen in a brilliant 23-13 wm, in which End compiled an outstanding total of 343 yards

Emd hosted the Pirates of Putnam City the following week, losing the first game of the season in a heartbreaker 20-6.

Using an all out effort, the Plainsmen played a "come from behind" thriller to put the damper on Douglass 20-21.

Setting the stage for an important showdown the following week, Enid scalped the Redskins from Capitol Hill 18-0

Krights of N. C. assen apended the Planesmen the next week 26-12 to give Enid its fifth loss in four years.

The past 40 years I have test to be of these QUILL Annual member making pictures with an 8 x 10 c. In a flash powder, I used to work faster.

In these last 40 years, I have been knocked down at football games, tackled, had two tamera's broken, and two ribs cracked; but with the next game I would be ready for more. No ther rain nor cold would make me miss a game at home.

I have enjoyed working with this new generation, with the teachers that have been here for many year.

I want his expression sincere thanks to Mr. Mauk and his office staff, Janette Noi a faculty of the first of the faculty of th

Fry as I may, the best adjective I can come up with to describe this past year is "interesting." Some students took it completely in stride, sailing serenely through the hectitimes. Others (take the Quit.L staff for an excellent example) ire still out of breath. However, not only have the staffers collected memories, they have created a few themselves They'll always spotlight in their own minds the "happenings" that took place in first hour. How can they forget, There was rewriting copy the mean ole editor-in-chief was making them do for the thousandth time( well, maybe it was only the fourth time). And there was posing for pictures so that the fmished product looked natural and unposed. They'll remember struggling to put students in their proper places during picture-taking time and the eternal rechecking of the index. But then again, they'll think of playing "Twister" at the yearhook parties. So, all in all, it has been a great year. one that all of us will want to remember and spotlight. The staff and I hope that our effort, the '68 QUILL, will help you.
